POLICY ON GARDA VETTING FOR STUDENTS OF CORK INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY

Some programmes at Cork Institute of Technology require students to undertake mandatory placements that will bring them into contact with children or vulnerable adults and in which they will assume positions of trust. To ensure the protection of special populations and instil public trust and confidence in CIT, the Institute is committed to ensuring that only suitable candidates are allowed to undertake these programmes.

CIT uses the Garda Central Vetting Unit (GCVU) to help assess the suitability of all applicants on such programmes. It is important to note that participation in or completion of these programmes may be affected by subsequent disclosure/discovery.
