Cork for Visitors

With a population of over 500,000 Cork combines a vibrant, culturally rich yet compact city with dramatic natural landscapes including mountains, bays, beaches and the world's second largest harbour. As Ireland's second largest urban area, Cork City is the beating heart of the region. It is vibrant, easy-going, cosmopolitan and accessible. Cork has the depth you'd expect from a European Capital of Culture, with a wealth of galleries, museums and live performances, plus a packed events calendar, with more than 20 major festivals each year.

A short drive from the city and the visitor can enjoy Cork's wonderful selection of landscapes. From sandy beaches and rugged coastlines, to peaceful lakes, beautiful mountains and quiet countryside, you will find it all here. Cork is uniquely positioned in Ireland as the gateway to both the Wild Atlantic Way and to Ireland's Ancient East. As Lonely Planet says "Everything good about Ireland can be found in County Cork." To make the most of your visit to Cork and Ireland why not take a look at www.cork.ie, www.visitcorkcounty.ie and www.Discoverireland.ie

Cork / Top sights

Blarney Castle
Medieval castle keep & baronial mansion

Blarney Stone
Legendary stone granting gift of the gab

Fota Wildlife Park
Vast park with exotic animals & plants

Saint Fin Barre's Cathedral
Victorian Gothic edifice with spires
